

Tattoo Ideation / Brainstorm

1.28.26 - Golden Bean Cafe in Belval by Uni

My mother is going to hate this post. I've been getting the tattoo itch heavy recently and have a bunch of ideas bouncing around my brain in regards to what I'd want to get. Tattoo prices here in Luxembourg are heinous given that everything here is so fucking expensive, but I'll be in Brussels in a week and a half and I'm thinking now is my mf time. Side note Tay Tay "The Archer" playing in my ears rn and is hitting like crack. Shoutout Tay Tay. So anyways I was gonna like sketch and ideate what tattoo(s) I want to get in my journal but then I thought what a great thing to put on my site! And I'm SURE the masses are CLAMORING for an upload / are dying to know what tattoos I want, so here we go lets get it here are my biggest three wants.

- Some type of Sade inspired work

Tbh I have wanted something like this for awhile and I think I'll reference it off the Love Deluxe artwork (pictured above). I thought about doing a quote/text but I wanna go the visual route I already have enough words on my body I don't wanna become a walking billboard / quotation. Only thing I'm back and forth with this tattoo is if I want to do it in finer line/detail/super realistic or if I want to go more like simplistic and let shading do the work. I included two pics right here to kinda describe what I mean the one on the left is more like detail oriented and fine line while the one on the right just lets the lighting/shading to the work. Leaning towards going more detailed oriented but we shall see what I decide. Also going back and forth on putting words above/below it like a quick line by her or sum. We shall see I guess. For location I think it'd be pretty dope on my wrist like the outer part or back of tricep. Also ribs could be cool. I'm all over the place lol. I gotta get a consultation and see what I'm feeling.

- Something Neo-Tribal , Cyber-Sigilist, Or like symbiote inspired type of thing

(some reference photos below, not exactly what I want but kinda the gist of it). Now this one I'm more so working around where I want the tattoo to sit as opposed to specific details/wants with the tattoo itself. I really like certain styles of the neo-tribal / cyber-sigilism as long as they don't look too scary lmao or like demonic idk if that's the word but when it looks too much like branches it gives me Carcosa from True Detectives vibe with the stick shit and freaks me the fuck out. For example the pic I used here on the left falls into that category. I would want the lines a bit softer and less like stick like and more futuristic like the tat on the left. I envisioned it having like symbiote/venom type of feel in that it would start at my shoulder and almost look like it was creeping down through my bicep / tricep and then also the other way onto my chest with maybe a strand or two onto my trap/lower neck. I always think it's pretty sick when a piece of a tattoo leaks out the shirt. Anywho yeah the pricing on this shit is a bit higher though and I would want to execute it correctly so it doesn't look like creepy or like a should be in Blade Runner.

- Mario Balotelli “Why Always Me” fine line /detail / shading

Tbh this is the one I lowkey want the most, and I want this one to be done in like great detail with the goal of realism in mind so a more realistic style I guess. Between these two images I think I'd rather do the first one on the left.

More iconic to me and I fw having more of his body in it no diddy as opposed to the one on the right. I think having this one like done right by an artist that is rlly good with realism would be so tough. For location I'm kinda torn on this one. I'm between chest (although I think this is actually cheugy asf nvm) yeah scratch chest idea. I think the calf would be super dope or potentially somewhere on my left arm / ribs maybe? Idk but if done right like I said this is def the one I want the most fs classic flick and goated character.

These are the three next tats I want but time will tell where / when I get them fs when I do though best believe you will be SEEING them. That's all for today folks.
